

Six reasons for students and researchers to join Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf

1. A public university on a large and pleasant campus near the city centre

Some 3,300 academic and administrative staff cater for the needs of about 32,000 students, of which 11 % originate from over 110 countries. Individual support, such as welcome centres and mentoring, is available for international students and researchers. All buildings, including University Hospital, subject libraries and halls of residence, are within easy reach. HHU is certified as a family-friendly university.

www.hhu.de

2. A leading academic institution in the Rhineland's education landscape

HHU has five faculties: Business Administration and Economics, Arts and Humanities, Law, Mathematics and Natural Sciences, and Medicine. Thanks to outstanding teaching and a large number of Collaborative Research Centres, HHU's progressive programmes and institutes enjoy an excellent reputation. Since its foundation in 1965, HHU has become a leading academic institution in the Rhineland's education landscape and is the hub for the acquisition, exchange and transfer of knowledge in the region.

<http://www.forschung.uni-duesseldorf.de/en.html>

3. Excellent conditions for undergraduate and postgraduate study

HHU offers around 80 study programmes that lead to internationally recognized qualifications. Many programmes and research groups are interdisciplinary. Campus life includes a broad range of sports and cultural activities.

<http://www.uni-duesseldorf.de/home/en/home.html>

World-class research conditions for doctoral researchers are complemented by the structured training measures offered by HHU's graduate academies.

<http://www.hera.hhu.de/>

4. A warm welcome for students and researchers

Together with the faculties, the International Office and the Junior Scientist and International Researcher Center (JUNO) provide individual support for international students and researchers. Students are assisted from when they enrol to the end of their programme.

<http://www.juno.hhu.de/en/international>

5. A safe city with a rich cultural landscape

Düsseldorf is a safe, beautiful and international city with lots of possibilities. Whatever you fancy - a drink in the Old Town, a barbecue down by the Rhine, a dinner in one of the exquisite Japanese restaurants or a visit to the theatre, opera or a concert - Düsseldorf has it. There is something for everyone: From offbeat to mainstream or sophisticated.

<https://www.duesseldorf.de/international.html>

6. Superb employment prospects

Düsseldorf is an exhibition city and home to the headquarters of many multinationals. The city's main economic sectors include telecommunications, media, banking, insurance, fashion, and corporate consulting. With its growing start-up scene, Düsseldorf has become a digitalization hotspot. The large number of enterprises in and around Düsseldorf offer excellent internship and job opportunities during and after university. HHU offers extensive employment-related assistance.

https://www.duesseldorf.de/international/international-business-service/business.html